

Peter Young

Biographical Information

Professionalism and versatility, the two hallmarks of Peter Young's broadcasting career, have been honed over the past 20 years covering well over 20 different sports.

Peter has worked for ESPN, the Pac12 Network, Universal Sports and previously worked for numerous other networks including the Outdoor Life Network, Versus, CBS, TNN and others.

On his website, www.peterbyoung.com he shares his passion for using sports parables to teach life lessons and spread the message of Christ. That passion is also evident in his first novel, The Blue Team, which was recently released to high acclaim.

Peter played basketball at the George Washington University in Washington, D.C. and was Tri-Captain of the 1991 team that went to the NIT. During this time he also traveled overseas with Athletes in Action. After his playing days ended he coached one year at the University of Colorado before spending time in the high school ranks.